Dear Stephen

Corus Teesside Cast Products focuses on carbon steels, delivering differentiated products, innovative solutions and reliable service to its customers around the world.

To assist in driving future performance and delivering value, Mteq Implementation were appointed to undertake a two-week P4i analysis of contractor performance in our Materials Handling area of the business.

We were greatly impressed with the findings and presentation of the Mteq P4i. The Mteq team were quickly able to grasp the intricacies and processes unique to our business. They worked extremely well with our staff and developed constructive professional relationships within a very short period of time.

As a result of the P4i exercise, we have engaged Mteq to implement a quantifiable performance programme in order to create more value in our contractual relationship with our mobile tool provider, improving the cost effectiveness of that service and make an immediate impact upon our cost base.

Yours Sincerely

Jon Bolton
